About the Program

Students will gain the knowledge, experience, skills, and mentorship to become transformational leaders in their local and global communities.

Did You Know...

- Employers rate leadership skills as essential to career readiness and success.
- A candidate’s leadership experience significantly influences employers’ hiring decisions.
- Demonstrated leadership is an important factor in graduate school admission.

Three courses: Intro, Mentoring, Advocacy/Service

HHS 598 (M01): Intro to Women’s Leadership in HHS
HHS 698 (M01): Enhancing Leadership Development through Mentoring
HHS 798 (M01): Leading through Advocacy and Service

Learn more: https://chhs.unh.edu/academics/womens-leadership-program
Contact: Lauren.Haley@unh.edu
Director of Career & Professional Success
College of Health and Human Services